

Head of school trust prepares to step down

Howard Lay says time now right to start stepping aside

THE head of a Haverhill academy trust is stepping down in January.

Howard Lay, 59, has overseen the Samuel Ward Academy Trust (SWAT) since it was set up in 2012. Before that he was headteacher of Samuel Ward Academy since 2000.

In January he will step down from his role as the trust's chief executive.

He said: "I am very proud of playing my part in both the Samuel Ward Academy and the trust which has built a strong reputation across West Suffolk."

"I now feel the time is right to start to step aside and introduce some fresh blood into the role of chief executive."

The recruitment process will begin in January and Mr Lay will stay on in a part-time role to support the new chief executive.

At least two new deputies are currently being recruited to provide further support to the new head of the trust.

The trust is expanding rapidly and currently incorporates 10 schools, including Haverhill's Samuel Ward Academy, Churchill Special Free School, Coupals Primary Academy and Westfield Primary Academy.

Mr Lay's resignation will not affect the proposed merger between SWAT and the Castle Partnership Academy Trust, which runs Castle Manor Academy, Burton End Primary Academy and Place Farm Primary Academy.

The merger is set to take place by the new year and will leave just three schools in Haverhill not run by the trust.

As head of Samuel Ward Academy, Mr Lay led the school to two "outstanding" Ofsted inspections, as well as academy status.

He was named Educational Leader of the Year at Suffolk's first Raising the Bar Awards in 2014, and was made an honorary fellow of the University Campus Suffolk last year.

During his time as head of the trust, he also played a leading role in the creation of the Churchill Special Free School. The school, which shares a site with Samuel Ward Academy, supports children who have communication difficulties such as autism.

Mr Lay said: "I see this as an opportunity to further strengthen what is becoming a very successful trust. Currently comprising of 10 schools, it has secured its first key objective of becoming a secure and sustainable trust."

"By supporting a successor over a longer period of time, it will ensure a more coherent and orderly transition, helping the new person develop an understanding of the responsibility and skills required in quite a unique job."

"It will also provide an effective way of developing additional leadership capacity through the appointment of deputies."

DISPLAY: Roy Brazier, history group chairman, with some of the exhibits

Picture: Keith Jones

Exhibition gives a peek into the past

MORE than 60 pieces of china and paintings dating back to the 1800s have gone on display in Haverhill.

The exhibition of items on loan to or owned by the Haverhill and District Local History Group started last week and is set to run until the end of the year.

The history group decided to put on the exhibition after acquiring a collection of china featuring Haverhill crests earlier this year.

Combined with residents' china collections, this has gone on display, alongside historic paintings owned by the group.

The oldest of these, portraits of manufacturer Barnabas Webb and his wife, date back to the 1800s.

The exhibition is in the bistro area of Haverhill Arts Centre.

COURT

Guard faced needle threat

A DRUG addict who threatened to inject a security guard with a needle thought to contain heroin has been given a suspended sentence.

Anthony Glen, formerly a Haverhill resident but now homeless, previously admitted eight theft offences, one attempted theft, common assault, possessing a knife in a public place and two charges of failing to surrender to court bail.

At Cambridge Magistrates' Court on Friday he was handed an 18-week prison sentence, suspended for two years, and a 30-day rehabilitation activity requirement.

The 47-year-old was also ordered to pay £1,358 in compensation after magistrates heard he had a £600 monthly trust fund set up by his mother before she died.

TARA COX
@TaraCoxCN

Paul Brown, prosecuting, said there were five shop thefts in Haverhill between February and March this year from Boots and Tesco.

Glen was caught on CCTV numerous times but tried to argue the footage was 'unclear', the court was told.

Mr Brown said: "On arresting the defendant police also discovered a vegetable peeler-type knife in his bag. The knife was not brandished or anything like that."

His Cambridge offences included two bike thefts, one attempted bike theft and one theft from a shop.

Mr Brown said: "On September 2 after stealing two bottles of vodka, the defendant threatened to inject a Sainsbury's security guard and got out a syringe filled with brown liquid suspected to be heroin.

"He said if he wasn't released by the security guard he would use it; the guard feared immediate violence would be used and the defendant managed to get away."

A probation report said Glen, who was a heroin addict, was also diagnosed with septicaemia in February.

Lucy Wise, mitigating, said: "My client would never have used the syringe; it was just a scare tactic to get away."

"He now has a new born grandchild and wants to stop using drugs."

"He knows if he offends again then prison is where he will go."

Schoolgirl, 12 dances her way to national title

A 12-YEAR-OLD Haverhill girl has been named national champion in Latin dancing.

Grace Claydon-Smith, who lives in Bellings Road, travelled to Blackpool over the weekend to compete in national finals.

She had already won a number of regional qualifiers, and managed to clinch the title despite having to perform a rumba – a dance she had never taken on before.

Grace, a student at Samuel Ward Academy, said the win felt “amazing”.

She continued: “The best thing was probably knowing that I had never done the dance before, and going in and winning it straightaway. “You never know what’s going to happen – it’s luck on the day.”

Her mum Tracy Claydon-Smith said: “She had happy tears. I think it was quite overwhelming for her. She’s only just 12 and for a 12-year-old to win it’s a big thing.”

“Everyone would love to get that first place because, as my daughter said, you get the sash and the trophy – and she had her eye on the sash!” Grace starting dancing at the age of six, and has been taking part in competitions for several years.

Last year, she came fourth in the national finals for ballroom dancing.

Dedicated Grace goes to two training sessions at The Studio in Royston each week, and takes dance exams throughout the year as well as taking part in competitions.

From January, she will be moving up from her current age category, juvenile, to the junior category, in which she will be competing with dancers aged up to 16.

She said: “It will be really different. You’ve got to work your way up. I’m pretty excited – I love the dresses!”

Grace says she hopes to continue competing and to be a dancer when she is older.

“It makes me feel like I can get away from everything,” she said.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Bag taken from park

A RUCKSACK containing a Samsung Galaxy mobile phone, a tablet computer, headphones and a purse has been stolen from Haverhill’s Recreation Ground in Camps Road.

The bag had been left unattended on a bench between 2pm and 2.20pm on Thursday, November 3, when the theft occurred. It also contain a scarf, hat, gloves and bus pass. Call police on 101.

Catalytic converter worth £750 stolen

A KIA Sportage parked in Haverhill’s Vetch Walk has had its catalytic converter stolen.

Offenders got underneath the vehicle, which was parked outside the victim’s home, and cut out the catalytic converter worth £750.

The theft took place between 7.45pm on Wednesday, November 2, and 8.15am on Thursday, November 3.

If you have any information call Haverhill police on 101.

Car vandalised

A BLUE Peugeot car left parked in Haverhill’s Castle Lane has been scratched on both its driver’s side doors.

The incident took place overnight between Friday, November 4, and Saturday, November 5.

Call police on 101 with information.

UTILITIES

School closed by power cut

HUNDREDS of residents were plunged into darkness and schoolchildren were sent home as power cuts hit Haverhill.

Two widespread power cuts affected the town in the space of less than 24 hours this week.

On Tuesday night at 11pm, the first power cut was reported. A fault on an underground cable meant that 272 homes lost power.

Residents reported on social media not only blackouts but power surges and flickering lights.

UK Power Networks said that power was restored in stages to all homes within two hours.

The second power cut took place at 9.40am on Wednesday and affected 168 properties. UK Power Networks said the power cut was due to a fault on a piece of electrical equipment.

The firm said their engineers restored power to the majority of those properties within two hours – but of the two customers left without power well into the afternoon, one was Samuel Ward Academy in Chalkstone Way.

Headteacher Kath Just said that the school experienced flickering lights before the power went completely, and the school was forced to send pupils home before 11am.

“I’ve never experienced anything like this at all,” she said, adding that the school was left without phone lines, internet and lights.

UK Power Networks said it finally restored power to all properties at 5.22pm. But more repair work was needed on overhead power lines, and a further 32 properties had their power cut off between 7pm and 9pm.

A spokesperson for UK Power Networks said: “We understand how difficult it is to be without power and apologise for any inconvenience this has caused.”

The power cut was particularly inconvenient for the 45 Samuel Ward students who were set to appear in the opening night of school play Graham: The World’s Fastest Blind Runner.

They were the only students allowed to stay on the school premises as they were expecting a visit from playwright Mark Wheeler.

The students had been rehearsing for weeks for the performance.

Ms Just said: “The playwright turned up and they performed a little production in the dark.”

The school was open as normal today, and Ms Just said that the planned second performance of Graham: The World’s Fastest Blind Runner would be going ahead this evening.

There is also set to be a performance at Haverhill Arts Centre at 7pm on Monday evening, and all are welcome to attend. Tickets are £5 for adults and £3 for children on the door.

COUNCIL

Plan for tip will cause nuisance, say councillors

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

COUNCILLORS have hit out at a plan to extend the operating hours of Haverhill's tip – but not the hours it is open to the public.

Suffolk County Council is proposing to operate the town's household waste recycling centre in Chalkstone from 6am to 8pm every day.

But it is not proposing any changes to the opening hours to the public: 9am to 5pm in summer, and 9am to 4pm in winter.

The longer operating hours would allow trade waste to be deposited outside peak times which, the county council says, would reduce congestion.

The same plan is being proposed for all 11 waste centres owned by the county council.

But at a planning committee meeting on Tuesday night, town councillors said the proposals were simply not appropriate for Haverhill's tip.

Cllr Barry Robbins said: "It shouldn't have been built there in the first place. There are houses all around, there are children – it's a danger. To take a car in with household waste you've got to sit there while they crush it."

Cllr John Burns said: "I have a problem with it opening at six o'clock in the morning because there are buildings right next to it now. My view is that they ought to grab this by the horns and say: 'Let's move this.'"

Councillors' main concerns related to the nuisance the early and late opening hours would cause to residents who live near the tip, and the problem traffic that already plagues the area, with Cllr Burns saying: "I'm surprised there haven't been any accidents."

Cllr Pat Hanlon pointed out the move would affect special needs adults who live near the site.

Cllr Quillon Fox added: "Lorries would have to go in at school times – it shouldn't be allowed. If the public aren't allowed in, it's pointless. It's over development of the site."

Town clerk Colin Poole pointed out that Haverhill's tip was different from other around Suffolk.

He said: "In Hadleigh it's on an industrial site, in Sudbury it's in the middle of nowhere up a country lane, but this is in the middle of houses."

"It's a lovely idea to say: 'We will do them all the same.' But it ignores the fact that this is in the centre of town."

The councillors agreed to submit a formal objection to Suffolk County Council.

Their objections include the over development of the site and the fact that it should be moved to another location, as well as the detrimental impact on nearby residents.

HEALTH

9,000 patient records have gone missing

MORE than 9,000 patient records have gone missing since a private firm took on transferring the files this year.

Residents in the Haverhill area could be among those affected as the number revealed in a BBC survey involved 78 GP practices in Norfolk, Suffolk and Essex.

The survey showed that a total of 9,009 patient records had been missing across those counties for at least two months.

Capita took on the national contract from the NHS for delivering patients' records, when people move from one GP to another, in March.

NHS England said: "We know there have been serious issues with services delivered by Capita which have had an unacceptable impact on practices."

"We are ensuring Capita takes urgent steps to improve services." In a statement, Capita said it had taken on the "challenging initiative" to streamline GP support services and there had been "teething problems".

But the firm added: "Medical records are now being delivered securely up to three times faster than under the previous system."

"We do not recognise these claims regarding thousands of files being missing whatsoever."

POLICE

Appeal after pet cat is shot

A CAT has been shot in the leg with an air gun in Haverhill.

Taz, a two-year-old black-and-white tomcat, was out in the Millfields Way area of the town between 2pm and 3pm on Sunday, October 30, when the incident took place.

His owner, who was looking after the cat on behalf of his three-year-old nephew, had only had Taz in the house two weeks.

Sunday was the very first time the pet had been allowed outside.

His owner, who did not wish to be named, said: "He was fine for about three hours and I called him in to be fed. He was eating his meal and there was blood dripping on the floor."

"We had to rush him to the vet's immediately. He was bleeding quite quickly and we started to panic."

"They had to take him straight in to operate."

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

It was only after the vet removed a lead pellet the size of a thumbnail from Taz's leg that his owner learned he had been shot.

Police believe an air rifle may have been used, and Taz's owner said he believed the shooter must have been quite close, as the injury went right through the cat's leg to his hip.

"I did have tears in my eyes," he said about the moment the vet told him what had happened. "It was my cat but not my cat - it was my little nephew's cat, and he is only three years old. That hurt me quite a bit."

Taz is now recovering, but it will take about a month until he is back to full strength.

He is wearing a collar to prevent him from biting the wound and will not be allowed outside for four weeks.

His owner said that when he was taken outside to go to the vet's after the incident, Taz panicked.

But he added: "He's calmed down now, he's a lot more friendly."

The owner was also left with an unexpected veterinary bill of £350 and needed to seek assistance from the RSPCA.

He said: "It's just very hurtful that someone can be so cruel as to shoot a cat. If someone doesn't like cats there are things that you can buy to keep them away."

He said he was concerned for the safety of a number of other pet cats who live in the area.

Police are appealing for anyone who has any information or saw anything suspicious to call the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on 101 quoting crime reference number 64058/16.

REMEMBRANCE

Marking Remembrance Sunday

TOMORROW is Armistice Day, and this weekend is Remembrance Sunday.

The time to commemorate those who have fallen in armed conflict is being marked in Haverhill with a silence and a parade.

The two-minute silence will take place tomorrow morning at 11am on Haverhill High Street, outside the Post Office.

On Sunday, a parade will start at 2.15pm in the car park behind the Haverhill

Arts Centre.

It will feature the Bury St Edmunds Sea Scouts Band as well as local dignitaries including Mayor of St Edmundsbury, Julia Wakelam, and Mayor of Haverhill, David Roach.

Wreaths will be laid at the war memorial in Haverhill cemetery before a salute is taken on the town's Market Square.

A remembrance service will then take place at St Mary's Church, followed by tea at 4.15pm in the Burton Centre in Camps Road.

This evening at 7.30pm, an event entitled We Will Remember Them will take place at Haverhill's West End Church.

The event, which will include music, readings and a visual display, will commemorate all those whose names are on the war memorial at the church.

Everyone in the Haverhill area is welcome at this free event.

Please sign rail link petition

IT IS with great interest that I am following the far-sighted campaign to re-open the rail link from Haverhill back to Cambridge.

I have lived in the area since the early 70s, not long after the line had shut in 1967 and have noted how the needs of the area have outstripped the supply of reliable public transport.

The A1307 traffic levels and accident rate have made any journey stressful to say the least.

The area has grown with additional housing and industry in and around Haverhill, Linton, Granta Park and Sawston. Also population and industrial growth towards Sudbury. Not everyone drives or can afford to.

For Haverhill to be put back on the map as a modern place to live and work, it needs a rail link.

This would be a gateway project as, technically, you could get on a train in Haverhill and arrive in London, Paris or where ever the train can take you.

Unfortunately Cambridge's obsession with buses is short sighted and will not produce the benefits required.

To get the cost benefit ratio (CBR) to a suitable point, it would be economic to initially put back a single line and run it as a long siding as at Sudbury. Suitable cascaded stock could be used to get the service going. Why not use local expertise to build it rather than the costly Network Rail model.

There is a petition on the Haverhill Re-opening Campaign site and I urge people to sign it.

EVENTS

Countdown to festive fun

BONFIRE Night may only just have passed, but it's time to start getting into the festive spirit.

Haverhill's annual family Christmas night has turned into a two-day event this year, with a Christmas market in Queen Street from 10am to 5pm on Friday, December 2, and 9am to 5pm on Saturday, December 3.

From 5.30pm to 8pm on the Friday night, there will be late night shopping, charity stalls and entertainment in the town centre, with the Christmas lights switch-on at 6.30pm and the fireworks finale at 8pm.

The Saturday will see an ice rink open from 10.30am to 4.30pm a craft and gift fair in the arts centre, as well as extra craft stalls at the regular Haverhill market.

Santa can be visited in his Grotto at Sturmer Nurseries from 10am to 3pm the first three weekends of December. The cost is £6 per child.

St Mary's Church is holding a Christmas Tree festival, which will be open from 10am to 2.30pm on December 9, 10, 16 and 17.

SPECTACULAR: Fireworks over Thurlow Recreation Ground

Bonfire Night 'best ever'

ALMOST 1,000 people turned out for a fireworks display at Thurlow on Saturday night.

Organiser Allan Loveday described the packed-out event as "the most successful Bonfire Night ever at Thurlow in the many years that it has been staged".

Visitors to Thurlow Recreation Ground were treated to a 30 minute fireworks display and a barbecue and beer tent was run by the new landlord of the village's Cock pub, Alex Bourne.

Mr Loveday said that proceeds are expected to total up to £7,000.

He said that the Thurlow Fayre committee, which organises the event, is expecting to make donations to the East Anglian Air Ambulance, St Nicholas Hospice Care and the Addenbrooke's Charitable Trust.

RESTORATION

Ancient church monument given £12,000 restoration

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

HUNDREDS of years of damage to a monument "of national importance" have been reversed in a £12,000 restoration.

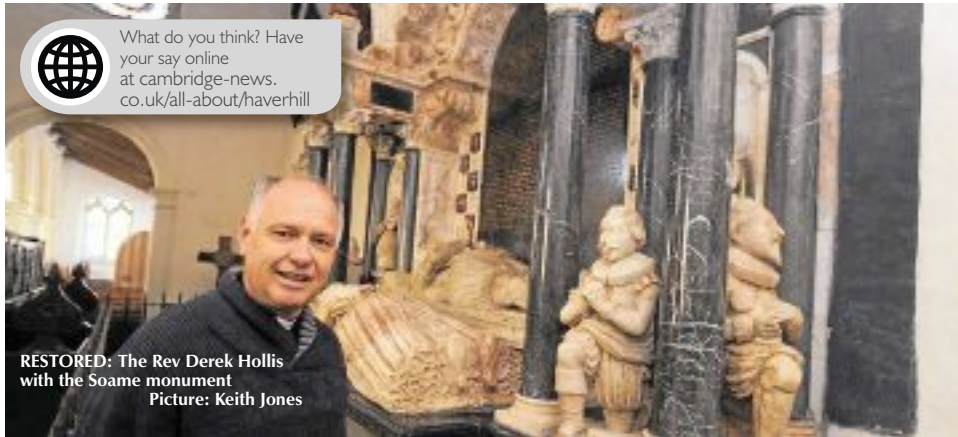

The Soame monument in St Peter's Church, Little Thurlow, was put up in 1621 and – apart from some possible Victorian repairs – had never been restored before this year.

The Rev Derek Hollis, rector of the Stourhead Benefice, said: "Because of its great age, it's a monument that's gone into decline over a couple of hundred years."

He said that iron pins that had been holding the monument together had rusted over the years, causing cracks in the stonework. He said that the deterioration had been accelerated by a roof leak which caused water damage to the monument.

The monument is for Sir Stephen Soame, who died in 1619 and his wife Lady Ann.

As well as being a significant local benefactor, responsible for creating the first school in Thurlow, Sir

RESTORED: The Rev Derek Hollis with the Soame monument
Picture: Keith Jones

Stephen was Lord Mayor of London and an MP.

Mr Hollis said: "It's considered by our church architect to be of national importance simply because of its age and its size, and because the gentleman and his wife were national figures."

The church embarked on an 18-month project to get the monument restored, securing £12,000 in funding from nine different sources

The restoration work took a month and involved replacing the iron pins with stainless steel ones, repairing cracked joints and securing loose or broken-off parts of the monument.

It was also given a thorough clean and had a layer of protective wax put over it.

The church is holding an open day on Saturday, when members of the public can view the restored monument.

The church will be open from 10am to 12pm and 2pm to 4pm.

CHARITY

Athletics events raise over £2,400

AN athletics organisation has raised a total of more than £2,400 for a local charity.

HaverSports, in partnership with Abbeycroft Leisure, organised the Haverhill Festival of Running in April and the Haverhill Triathlon Festival last month.

The partnership also delivered triathlon events in Bury St Edmunds in June and in Mildenhall in August.

The events raised a total of £2,481 for St Nicholas Hospice Care, which runs the Burton Centre in Haverhill's Camps Road.

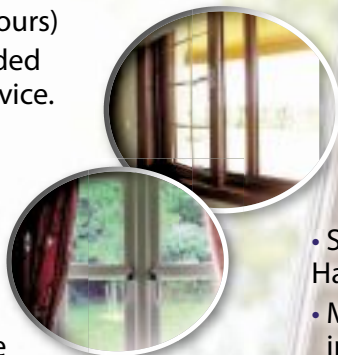

The money has now been presented to the hospice charity, but HaverSports director Jack Tappin is already planning next year's events, including the Haverhill Festival of Running on April 9.

Hospice fundraiser George Chilvers said: "All the support we receive is hugely appreciated, and we want to thank HaverSports, Abbeycroft Leisure, and all their sponsors, supporters and athletes who have contributed to their fundraising for us this year. We look forward to working with them further in 2017." Visit haversports.com

COMPETITION

HEAD START: Kathleen Tofts won the bronze prize in the Decorative Exhibit category

Pizz-a cake for baking family duo

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A MOTHER and son have each won awards at one of the biggest cake competitions in the world.

Kathleen Tofts and her 8-year-old son Max, who live in Haverhill's Park Road, both entered bakes in the Cake International competition in Birmingham over the weekend.

The enormous event at the city's NEC saw more than 1,000 cakes on display and 30,000 people visiting over the course of the weekend.

It was the first time either Max or Kathleen had entered a baking competition, and Max's pizza-inspired creation was the first cake he had ever made by himself.

"He did some airbrushing, he used a blowtorch to melt the cheese effect on his cake," said Kathleen.

She said his previous baking and decorating experience involved helping her with the Christmas cake and making cupcakes at the weekend.

Kathleen, who runs baking business Beautiful Tiers, opted for a slightly more gruesome design for her competition entry.

Entering the "Decorative Exhibit" category, her depiction of a severed head being carried by a tortoise was inspired by a scene in HBO hit Breaking Bad.

"I really like doing something different – I like seeing people's reactions," she said.

The enormous creation was enough to feed 200 people, and after the competition the Haverhill mum chopped it up and distributed it to homeless shelters in Cambridge.

STRUCK GOLD: Max with his pizza-inspired creation

Kathleen was awarded the bronze prize in her category, while Max, who goes to Burton End Primary School, won gold.

"He was really excited," said Kathleen. "He said: 'Am I really good then? Well I did better than you, didn't I, mum!'"

She said Max was already planning his entry for next year's Cake International.

Kathleen added that she was "beyond thrilled" with her award, saying: "I am chuffed to bits."

Kathleen baked her very first cake just eight years ago, a teddy bear with three blocks for Max's first birthday.

After that, she began making cakes for friends and family, and four years ago she launched Beautiful Tiers.

"I was so busy I couldn't go back to work!" she said.

PLANNING

Appeal in row over flats plan

A ROW has broken out over a plan to build 50 retirement flats in Haverhill.

Churchill Retirement Living had proposed constructing the flats in the town's Camps Road, on unoccupied land next to the former magistrates' court.

But after a disagreement with St Edmundsbury Borough Council over affordable housing provision, Churchill has appealed against the non-determination of the application.

Churchill says its financial offer for the site includes "a contribution to help meet the affordable housing needs of the Haverhill area".

But a borough council spokesperson said the company had offered less than five per cent affordable housing – when developers are required to offer 30 per cent.

The appeal could trigger an inquiry by the government's planning inspectorate.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Andrew Burgess, planning director of Churchill Retirement Living, said: "The approach being taken by [St Edmundsbury] is unreasonable, irresponsible and illogical."

"We recognise our responsibility to provide affordable housing contributions, however this has to be provided as part of an economically viable development that is deliverable."

"Councillors and the local community need to be made aware that the council are now forcing a long and expensive planning inquiry which is likely to end up costing taxpayers a significant amount of money."

The council spokesperson said that any inquiry would be a result of the appeal launched by Churchill. He added that an inquiry would not necessarily take place, as the appeal could be dealt with at a local hearing.

The spokesperson continued: "No planning decision has been taken by St Edmundsbury Borough Council because Churchill Retirement chose to stop negotiations and has appealed against our non-determination."

"Our duty to residents is to ensure that developments include appropriate numbers of affordable homes and the council's own independent expert viability assessment disagreed with Churchill's view."

"The borough's democratically-approved affordable housing policy is for 30 per cent to be provided by developers – Churchill offered less than 5 per cent."

"We will await the result of the non-determination appeal."

Charity staff hold tea party

A HAVERHILL charity shop celebrated its 25th birthday last week.

On Tuesday, November 1, staff and volunteers at the British Heart Foundation shop in the High Street held a party with tea and cakes to mark the anniversary.

Certificates were given to long-serving volunteers, with one, Alan Palmer, clocking up 15 years.

Shop manager Julie Selwood, from Haverhill, has been working at the shop for 13 years after losing her father to a heart attack.

She said: "I'd like to take this opportunity to say thank you to all my fantastic staff, volunteers and our customers."

Injured in an accident – opt for local advice!

Hannah Clarke, a Solicitor at Ashtons Legal, offers some advice from a legal perspective.

Many people are injured in accidents that aren't their fault. All circumstances and injuries are slightly different and so compensation claims need to be assessed individually to ensure everyone gets the help they deserve. (x), a personal injury specialist at local firm Ashtons Legal, gives five reasons why (he/she) believes that 'going local' is generally an injured person's best option.

1 A lawyer who sees you face-to-face is likely to gain a better understanding of the real impact of your injuries on your and your family's lives than someone who is many miles away. This is particularly true in the case of serious injuries. It will help to ensure that you obtain all the compensation, and rehabilitation or treatment, to which you are entitled.

2 Local lawyers are likely to have links with physiotherapists and rehabilitation providers in your area and may also know local police and doctors so can obtain more quickly a full understanding of your accident and injuries. They may be familiar with the roads on which your accident occurred and perhaps even have handled claims for other people injured in the same place. All these small factors may enable them to get you the help you need more rapidly.

3 Local solicitors will work hard to do a good job for you because they value their reputation and rely heavily on word of mouth recommendations rather than paying for the TV advertising favoured by some national firms.

4 Contrary to some of the myths, it will usually not cost you any more to use a local solicitor than to use your insurer's lawyer and you don't have to use your insurer's lawyer if you prefer to 'go local'. Solicitors should always explain funding options to you at the outset but variations on 'no win, no fee' are still widely available.

5 At Ashtons, we regularly receive enquiries from local people who would like a second opinion on personal injury claims because they feel that the amount they have been offered by their insurer's lawyer is not a fair reflection of their losses. In many cases we agree and have been able to obtain a better settlement.

Inventor right on cue with new snooker rest

A HAVERHILL man has invented an innovative cue rest to help wheelchair snooker players.

Tim Squires has been running disability snooker charity Snookerbility for the last six years.

He is a board member of World Disability Billiards and Snooker, which was set up last year with the aim of making snooker a Paralympic sport.

The rest that he has developed uses an LED light to create a shadow under the ball, so wheelchair players can take a shot more easily. It replaces the traditional half butt rest used by able-bodied players.

Tim said: "The snooker table's 12 foot and the cue's nine foot. Standing up you can look down on the table and you can gauge where you need to be.

"People in a wheelchair, they haven't got that distance – they are too far away, or they are too close."

He explained that players

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

who are standing up use the shadow underneath the ball to gauge their shot, but that this is not visible from a lower vantage point.

Putting an LED light in the rest creates a shadow that can be seen by a wheelchair player, allowing them to take the same shot as a player who is standing up.

"I think it was a shock to the system [for wheelchair players] because it wasn't available to them before," Tim said. "It took me six months to come up with the idea and five minutes to put it together."

The rest has already been trialled at several events and Tim is now working on getting permission from the World Professional Billiards and Snooker Association so that it can be used during tournaments.

"It isn't for an advantage over other players – it gives them the opportunity to play a shot now which they couldn't before," said Tim.

He has also had a screen installed in the room used for Snookerbility sessions at the Haverhill Ex-Servicemen's Club in the town's Quakers Lane.

He says that this is very helpful for teaching players with autism, who respond more easily to the film than to spoken instructions.

"Watching it back, they can see the good things and the not so good things," Tim said. "It's given me another teaching technology."

To find out more about Snookerbility and get involved, contact Tim by calling him on 07944922869 or visiting facebook.com/tjs.snookerbility

INDEPENDENT FAMILY
FUNERAL DIRECTORS & MONUMENTAL MASONS

WHY CHOOSE AN INDEPENDENT FUNERAL DIRECTOR?

Funeral Administrator, Nicki Hickford

In all forms of business today there are big national companies that have made their profits through taking over smaller firms. The funeral profession is no exception. Many businesses have changed hands but have not necessarily changed names. That makes it hard for you to distinguish between a family owned firm and the branch of a vast conglomerate. The independent funeral profession has a long and proud history of personal service to local communities. Carrying on the family tradition is a way of life for many independent funeral directors. They are deeply committed to upholding professional standards. Some of the oldest continuously operated businesses in Britain are family-owned firms. Without asking, you may never know if the owners your family have trusted over the years continue to make the decisions which will affect the service you will receive. So, when you need the services of a funeral director, please just ask. It's important that you know who you're speaking to.

Never be embarrassed to ask a funeral director to show you their premises or enquire about the likely costs. A reputable funeral director will be more than happy to answer any questions you may have as to whether there is a Chapel of Rest, whether their staff are qualified, what the fees are, if they have mortuary facilities on site and what age and what type of vehicles are available.

A good funeral director, like Peasgood & Skeates will be available 24 hours a day, 52 weeks of the year, offering an emergency service with free advice. All arrangements will be made on the family's behalf, either at the funeral home or in the privacy of the family's home.

A recent IPSOS Mori report highlighted in a survey of 500 towns in the UK where there was a Co-Op, Dignity & independent funeral director, that the independent funeral director offered the best value and service in every case.

WHY CHOOSE A PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLAN?

Pre-paid funeral plans are already established as a caring and responsible way of making arrangements. Services can be tailored to reflect an individual's personality, wishes and life.

With families living further apart, and in some cases moving abroad, it is not unusual for children or relatives to purchase a plan on behalf of an elderly or infirm relative or parent.

Pre-paid funeral plans are not normally regarded as forming part of a person's assets or estate, so therefore, in some circumstances this may enable the plan holder to claim benefits for which they may not otherwise qualify. This could even prove advantageous with situations involving inheritance tax.

The official opening of our Haverhill
Funeral Home

The National Society of Allied & Independent Funeral Directors (SAIF), which Peasgood & Skeates are proud members of, recommends Golden Charter pre-paid funeral plans. Golden Charter works solely on behalf of 3,300 independent funeral directors throughout the UK.

When funeral plans are made with local independent funeral directors, they can use their local knowledge to personalise the pre-paid plan for the individual, with a good overview of the community they serve. They will ensure that the most appropriate services and up to date price information is available, maintaining choice and providing a professional service. Peasgood & Skeates are committed to upholding their professional standards and providing both traditional and bespoke services. They are not governed by corporate rules, meaning that they can concentrate on delivering a personal service to you and your family.

- Cover the cost of your funeral director's services at today's prices - a simple, practical way to beat rising funeral prices
- Protect your family from the worry of funeral costs and put your mind at rest that all is taken care of.
- An opportunity, if you wish, to specify your wishes and preferences.

Buyer beware - do you know who will deliver the funeral?

There are many ways to purchase a Funeral Plan. However, it is recommended that you take the time to contact your local independent family funeral director for a more personal and knowledgeable service. Here's why:

- If you purchase a Funeral Plan over the internet, shop counter or telephone, the seller has no vested interest in ensuring that you receive the best service and value for your money at the time of need.
- Although you may be able to nominate a funeral director of your choice at the time you make the purchase, that funeral director may be offered far less money by the holder of the funds than you have paid them to provide the service. They may therefore be unable to accept the funeral plan, leaving the funeral to be allocated to a funeral director who is not local to you.

- Families sometimes feel pressurised by on-line and telephone salespeople to make a quick decision.

Why do Peasgood & Skeates use Golden Charter?

- The money is safely protected in a Trust Fund.
- Over half a million plan holders have already trusted them with their funeral arrangements.
- They are the UK's largest funeral plan provider - in recent years they've sold more plans than any other provider.
- The company is owned by independent funeral directors, of which there are 3300 throughout the UK - 62% of families in the UK prefer to use an independent funeral director.

A WORLD of imagination is available for children at Country Toys.

The outdoor play specialists, based in Whittlesford, sell a huge range of activity toys from tractors to trampolines, climbing frames to go-karts.

Country Toys specialise in outdoor play equipment, from leading manufacturers like Berg Toys, Rolly Toys, Blue Rabbit and Jungle Gym. They can also supply climbing frames for schools or pubs manufactured by Hy-Land.

They sell toys suitable for children of all ages, from two-year-olds up to adults.

Martin Evans, manager of Country Toys, said: "It's great to get kids more active, outside, playing with their friends and having fun instead of sitting in front of a games console inside.

ADVERTISING FEATURE

"It's more creative. They can use their imaginations and things come to life. With the Jungle Gym we sell a train module and also a boat module so children can be anything from a train driver to a pirate on the high seas.

"Popular toys are definitely the go karts, they are fun products for boys and girls. They come in various colours and we have a range of models including BMW, John Deere and many more. They suit children from three years old to teenagers.

"The pedal tractors are very popular at this time of year. Country toys is a dealer for Rolly Toys Pedal Tractors which include a lot of familiar farm machinery names like John Deere, Fendt, Massey Ferguson and New Holland pedal tractors.

There are plenty of other toys to fire youngsters' imaginations including kitchen sets and workshops.

Mr Evans said: "They are all well made products, products that will not fall apart in five minutes. The wooden toys are made from top grade timber, it's all pressure treated, most products have two to 10 year warranties on them."

The family-run company was founded in 2005 and is the sister company of Duxford Hire and Supply. It sells toys online and has a store on Station Road West, Whittlesford.

Country Toys also sell spare parts so you have peace of mind when you buy a products from us.

Country Toys is open Monday to Friday from 8.30am-1pm and from 2pm-5.30pm. On Saturdays it is open from 8.30am-1pm (2-5pm summer time).

The shop is closed on Sundays. Find out more at country-toys.co.uk.

Charming cottage

Cover property

Little Wratting: £315,000

THIS charming Grade II listed cottage in Green Row, Old Haverhill Road, West Wratting, is on the market for £315,000.

Originally two cottages and situated in a semi-rural location overlooking open countryside, it has retained many period features and has accommodation including a sitting room with brick inglenook fireplace and exposed beams, a dining room with French doors to the garden and a kitchen with breakfast bar and a door to the rear.

Upstairs there are three bedrooms and a family bathroom.

Outside there is a front garden with brick and flint wall and climbing roses and a rear garden with lawn, seating areas, shrubs and borders, two garden sheds and off-road parking for one vehicle.

To arrange a viewing, call David Burr's Clare office on (01787) 277811.

FESTIVE CELEBRATION: Catch the broadcast of André Rieu: Christmas with André on November 19, Right: Stephen K Amos on November 17

■ Friday, November 11 – Saturday, November 19

■ To kick things off this week The Men Who Marched Away is by the same team who performed A Medieval Christmas, A Victorian Christmas and The Canterbury Tales at the arts centre. It commemorates the 100th anniversary of the First World War with soldiers' songs, music hall numbers, war poems set to new music and original compositions. The show does not flinch from conveying the full horror of the first global conflict but also celebrates the courage and humour of the soldiers under fire – and those they left behind. Featuring a host of wartime standards such as Pack-up Your Troubles, Tipperary and Goodbye-ee as well as brand-new musical settings of poems by lesser-known war poets such as May Wedderburn Cannan and C. Fox-

Smith, The Men Who Marched Away is a moving tribute to the fallen and a fitting reminder of their sacrifice.

■ Catch up with Haverhill Silver Band as they showcase the talent of their musicians with a variety of solos, duets and trios on Sunday, November 13, at 7.30pm. It is also billed as a chance to learn more about the instruments played and the players.

■ Wednesday, November 16, sees Brendan Shine, one of Ireland's best-loved singing stars perform such hits as Do You Want Your Old Lobby Washed Down, Grandad, My Son, Galway Girl and The Rose of Castlereagh. Join Brendan at 7.30pm for an evening of entertainment Emerald Isle style.

■ Stephen K Amos is the globe-trotting laughter master who is guaranteed to brighten up this otherwise dull Thursday night in mid November.

You may remember his TV show on the BBC or seen and heard him on TV and radio panel shows but Stephen has also performed his feel-good comedy live all over the UK, Europe and even the Antipodes. On these travels he has encountered all sorts of people, people who had not the least compunction in saying ridiculous things – to Stephen's face! Come and hear what Stephen is all about on Thursday, November 17, at 8pm.

■ If ol' Blue Eyes flies you to the moon or makes you feel so young, then you can't miss Sinatra: His Way on Friday, November 18, at 7.30pm. Robert Habermann tells, and sings, the remarkable story on one of the greatest singers of the 20th century.

■ There are still some, but not that many, tickets left for the broadcast André Rieu: Christmas with André on Saturday, November 19, at 5pm. It's a festive celebration packed with favourites performed by André and his famous Johann Strauss Orchestra. André's concerts are always very popular so book soon if you fancy seeing him and his pals do their extraordinary stuff.

■ Joanne Froggatt takes a day off from being Britain's first female serial killer on ITV for Starfish (15). This film is a much less chilling chance to see why Joanne is such a popular actor and is based on the true story of a couple whose life goes into a tailspin when they have to cope with a life-threatening illness. See it on Tuesday, November 15, at 7.45pm.

■ Coming soon the arts centre has Inferno (12A) with Tom Hanks (November 30); the latest from Ken Loach, I Daniel Blake (December 1); Centre Stage's Vicar of Dibley, the Second Coming (November 23-26) and Inside the Delta, a blues night with Guy Davis and Brooks Williams (November 28).

■ Saturday, November 12, 7.30pm The Men Who Marched Away. £10, £8

■ Sunday, November 13, 7.30pm Haverhill Silver Band – A Band Full of Talent. £8, £6.50

■ Tuesday, November 15, 2pm Silverliners Line Dancing. £3

■ Tuesday, November 15, 7.30pm. Starfish (15) £6, £5

■ Wednesday, November 16, 7.30pm Brendan Shine. £15

■ Thursday, November 17, 8pm Stephen K Amos – World Famous. £16

■ Friday, November 18, 7.30pm Sinatra: His Way. £12.50

■ Saturday, November 19, 5pm André Rieu: Christmas with André £18/£16

Driverless may help seniors drive on DRIVERLESS cars could help more than 2.8 million Brits over the age of 65 remain mobile for longer. However, a new survey by Bosch has found that drivers over 55 could benefit the most from automated technology in decades to come, but feel less informed about driverless cars than any other age group.

A quarter (25 per cent) of over-65s find it difficult to get to their local hospital, while 12 per cent struggle to reach their nearest supermarket, according to figures from Age UK.

Automated driving technology, or so-called driverless cars, give motorists greater support, making it safer and easier for people to stay mobile into later life, without relying on support from others.

A YouGov Omnibus survey of more than 2,000 respondents, commissioned by Bosch, showed that drivers over 55 years old are the most likely of any age group to say that they don't know enough about driverless cars (27 per cent). The survey also found that drivers over the age of 55 are the most likely to say that driverless cars would not make them feel safer in any situation.

However, of all age groups questioned, the over-55s stand to gain the most from driverless vehicle technology, according to Steffen Hoffmann, UK

NO HANDS: And age no concern too – maybe!

president of Bosch: "By the time baby boomers reach their 70s and 80s, we expect the driverless car to be quite common on UK roads, allowing this generation to stay mobile safely well into their old age. This allows them to keep their independence for longer."

"Therefore, it is important that they are aware of the technology at this early stage, so that they can take advantage of it when they need to."

Despite many over-55s not liking the idea of driverless cars, many want their car to offer a number of driverless functions by 2025. Nearly three quarters (75 per cent) want their future cars to maintain a safe distance from the car in front, while more than half want cars to take control to avoid an accident (61 per cent) and park themselves (59 per cent). All three of these features are already available on many vehicles today.

In contrast, Bosch's survey found that the next generation of motorists already feel prepared for driverless cars. In a separate survey, Bosch questioned a group of six year olds about their ideal car of the future, who see driverless cars as a positive technology, if not essential.

One respondent, Kobei, said: "If cars don't have a driver that means anyone can drive them, no matter what age. That means that even people as old as 70 or 80 can drive them!"

Daniel, who also participated in the survey, said: "We tell it [the car] where to go and then it copies a map where to go and then it drives there itself!"

Videos and more information is available at bosch.co.uk/asmartercar.

VAUXHALL: November 11 to 14 deal

Murketts offers £500 'free fuel' incentive

FROM November 11 to 14, customers who purchase one of Vauxhall's brand new 66-plate vehicles from local Vauxhall retailer Murketts Vauxhall, with sites in Cambridge and Huntingdon, will be able to drive away with a pre-pay fuel card worth £500, enabling them to enjoy an altogether different winter fuel allowance.

During the four day event, customers will get £500 worth of free fuel on top of Vauxhall's other great offers. Furthermore, customers can also get 20 per cent off all genuine and approved Vauxhall accessories.

Details at murketts.co.uk.

How to improve a car's performance by 70%

The effectiveness consultancy Benchmarking recently analysed what happens when companies include press advertising in their media mix.

They looked at more than 500 econometric models, covering a five-year period and, as the table here shows, they found that adding newspapers dramatically increases the effectiveness of other media.

In the automotive sector they reviewed companies that ranged from the big spending German goliaths of the industry to medium sized independent carmakers.

And they discovered that by adding newspaper advertising to their campaigns, they cranked up their effectiveness by over 70%.

Increased effectiveness using newspapers

| Retail | Automotive | Finance |

| 2.8x | 1.7x | 5.7x |

So, whatever the size your business or budget, get motoring into newspapers.

Fascias, Soffits & Guttering

GUTTER CLEARING SERVICE
Do your gutters have fallen leaves, sand, mud and other debris in them? Most do, as with every rainfall the debris is washed into them from your roof top. Do you want to save yourself the expensive repairs associated with the damage blocked gutters can cause to your home?
Regular clearing helps to prevent blocked gutters which can lead to costly repairs from burst pipes and water damage to your house structure.
Contact James on 01480 831970 (Evenings) or 07471164278 (Daytime) for an honest, reliable gutter clearing service. Prices start at £20 a house. Appointment times and quotations are available on request. Public liability insurance held and CRB checked.

Deputy Media Preparation Supervisor

Wellcome Trust/Cancer Research UK Gurdon Institute • £21,843-£25,298

The Wellcome Trust/Cancer Research UK Gurdon Institute was founded in 1989 to promote research in the areas of developmental and cancer biology and is located close to the centre of Cambridge.

We are looking for an experienced supervisor with an understanding of the research environment to complement our media preparation team which provides a vital support service for the Institute. The role includes the active supervision of team members; co-ordination and preparation of research media and solutions; and supporting the media facility manager in all aspects of running the unit. An existing understanding of the standards and precision required to produce research media, and familiarity with associated equipment and technologies would be useful, but training will be given.

Limited funding: The funds for this post are available for 5 years in the first instance.

Benefits include generous maternity/paternity leave, flexible working and funds for returning careers and other family-friendly schemes.

Finance & Administration Clerk

West Cambridge • £18,940-£21,843

We are seeking to appoint a Finance and Administration Clerk to work as part of a small but busy team in Cambridge to support the finance processes for UBS staff.

The role holder will provide administrative support to the UBS finance team; carrying out monthly finance processes including overtime and expenses processing, handling procurement queries for UBS staff on behalf of the UBS finance team, processing invoices for payment using Cambridge University Finance System (CUFS) and resolving supplier issues when necessary. The role holder will also provide ad hoc support to the UBS Directors, assisting with clerical and general administrative duties including minute taking, filing, and typing up notes.

The successful applicant will be an approachable person, educated with at least five GCSE's grades A* - C including English and Mathematics (or equivalent) with excellent communication skills. They must be a motivated and organised; able to manage their own workload, prioritising tasks and working to deadlines independently with minimal supervision. The successful applicant will be computer literate, competent at using standard IT software and Microsoft Office programmes, and a working knowledge of University CUFS and iprocurement is also desirable.

Although primarily based in West Cambridge, the role holder may be asked to work at offices on Cambridge Biomedical Campus to provide support and cover, therefore must be able to work from either site as required.

Once an offer of employment has been accepted, the successful candidate will be required to undergo a health assessment and a security check.

Rovers are rocked by stoppage-time winner

HAVERHILL Rovers suffered bitter disappointment when they succumbed to a stoppage-time winner against the runaway leaders Mildenhall Town in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Rovers made a bright start to the match and they went in front through Rory Jebb in the 12th minute after good work by Mason Newman.

Rovers held on to their lead at half time, and their stubborn resistance looked to be causing Mildenhall problems.

But then in the 76th minute, their brave resistance was finally broken.

And it was ex-Rovers player Luke Parkinson who scored the equaliser, firing an unstoppable drive from the edge of the area through a crowd of players that found the net at the near post.

Rovers keeper Charlie Turner was a hero moments later, somehow keeping out substitute Dan Brown's fiercely-struck shot.

But as the game went into additional time the pressure from the visitors continued to intensify.

And when Turner came to punch the ball in a crowd of players but failed to connect, Brown was on hand to bundle the ball home with the last kick of the game.

In the First Division, the 10 men of Haverhill Borough lost 5-1 at leaders Coggeshall Town.

The hosts took the lead on the half hour but Borough equalised moments later through Errol Durell.

Town regained the lead before half time and then went 3-1 in front after Bart Pater was adjudged to have brought down an opponent, conceding a penalty and receiving a red card in the process.

The spot kick was converted, and it took just a few minutes of the second half for Town to extend their lead.

Another goal followed on the hour and from then on there was no way back for Borough.

Town get back to winning ways

HAVERHILL Town under-15s returned to winning ways as they romped to a 5-1 victory over Balsham Colts.

Town made a good start to the game but some stubborn defending from the visitors prevented them from breaking the deadlock.

Balsham offered little in attack, but with the home side frustrated, it remained 0-0 at the interval.

Town again made a bright start to the second half, and this time their efforts were rewarded as Joe McCarthy fired them into a 1-0 lead.

Jack Lisher made it 2-0 shortly afterwards, and Ryan Harvey extended the lead.

Balsham pulled a goal back but the fight back did not last long. Cameron Reid made it 4-0, before Lisher netted his second to round off the scoring.

Haverhill's Mepham has a Lode of fun

KELLY Mepham continued her excellent form for Haverhill Running Club at the Lode Half Marathon.

The personal trainer (pictured below) completed the 13-mile multi-terrain village race in 1hr 33min 30sec and was the third woman home.

Mepham is the club's current fastest woman over the distance.

Neil Mustoe was Haverhill's second finisher in 1:42.44, with Marc Benson clocking 1:46.47.

Yusuf Firat and Kym Cromarty also finished the race, crossing the line together in 1:47.22.

Elsewhere, Lee Brown took on the challenge of the 10-mile Bure Valley event in Norfolk and came home in 1:09.30.
